You’ve got this far, and learned so much about your communities of study. Can you really keep astroturfing for Crimson Corp? No, there’s information out there and people affected, and you’re about to clear the air.

Your Job: Perform Discourse Analysis on the communities you’ve studied utilizing the data you’ve collected from steps 1 and 2. By analyzing these discourse(s), seeing how they disseminate information, and knowing what they value, what can we learn? What kind of disparities do we find?

Integrating your research into your Discourse analysis paper will earn you 200 points
